Who is the study programme aimed at?

This programme is aimed at anyone who wants to work in an international and intercultural environment. If you are open-minded, solution-oriented and ready to embark on a journey where you will work with different people and apply different methods to develop solutions for complex business problems, then this programme is for you!

The Swiss Economy is globally connected. Switzerland is also the home to many international organisations. The BSc International Business Administration will equip you with the necessary knowledge and skills to pursue a successful career in this environment. Due to the international group of students as well as various exchange opportunities, you will be able to start building your own international network.

What are the requirements?

Applicants must fulfill certain admission requirements relating to their educational background. In addition, they must demonstrate at least one year of full-time professional experience in a field related to their field of study. As the course is taught in English, applicants are required to have a good B2 level of English. However, a C1 level is strongly recommended. Programme Content

The competences taught in the curriculum are provided in modules. Compulsory modules provide fundamental business knowledge and skills. During the advanced level you are free to choose from a variety of elective and specialisation modules to strengthen your individual profile.

Specialisations taught in English include

- Applied Data Science for Business
- Banking & Finance
- Digital Business Management
- Global Management
- Innovation & Entrepreneurship

Additionally, you can choose from a variety of specialiations taught in German.

If you work in a field related to business administration while studying, you have the opportunity to apply for recognition of your work and receive a maximum of 12 ECTS towards your degree. Additionally, you will have the opportunity to gain valuable practical experience through various modules that involve collaborations with companies and other institutions.

Several modules focus on specific challenges faced by international companies, such as the elective modules "Business and International Policymaking" and "Managing People Globally." In addition, multiple modules include collaboration with foreign partner universities. This collaboration may occur through virtual group projects, study trips to various destinations, or hosting international student groups in Bern.

Teaching Concept

While the foundation level consists purely of compulsory modules, modules can be planned individually and flexibly during the advanced level. We value presence teaching for personal exchange and the development of global competences. However, several forms of online teaching, self-directed assignments, group projects and simulations allow self-responsible and flexible studying.

Profile of the Study Programme

Business is a global endeavor: global and intercultural competencies are therefore essential. The BSc International Business Administration provides you with a set of sound foundational skills, including language proficiency, the ability to work with people from around the world, and knowledge about current global developments and the associated uncertainties. The programme also offers a variety of opportunities to strengthen your individual profile for the career path you want to pursue.

Exchange Semester & Double Degree

In order to gain in-depth international experience, you can choose to study abroad for one or two semesters at one of our partner universities around the world. You also have the option to complete your final year, including specialisation and bachelor thesis, at one of our designated Double Degree partner institutions. This allows you to obtain their degree in addition to the BFH degree.

Additional Certificates

In addition to the Bachelor's degree, with a little extra effort you can earn either a Certificate of Global Competence or a Certificate of Engagement, demonstrating your competencies in interculturality or voluntary work.

Career Services & Consultations

We offer continuous support and guidance from your first day of studies until the completion of your degree, providing a wide range of services through our Career Services. Our Student Services team is also available to advise you in your decision-making process as part of your studies.

Welcome to the Business School with Sustainable Impact

Our English-language BSc International Business Administration enables you to study with an international group of students taught by an international group of lecturers. Extensive collaborations with partner universities provide opportunities to engage in a wide range of international activities at home and abroad. A significant portion of the study program can be put together yourself, allowing you to build your own unique profile.
