Call for Abstracts

09-10 september 2022, Bern, Switzerland

The 19th European Doctoral Conference in Nursing Science

“Designing the Future of Healthcare – Nurses Taking the Lead” is the motto of the 19th European Doctoral Conference in Nursing Science, which is a meeting point for PhD students from all over the world. During this conference PhD students in health or nursing Science present their contribution to the future of healthcare. Innovative and substantial findings will be discussed, which will enable fresh perspectives to be attained. Moreover, this conference offers PhD students a platform for practicing performances in an international context. This conference will also provide an excellent opportunity for networking and international knowledge exchange.

The EDCNS is a meeting point for PhD students from all over the world and is organized by PhD students in Health and Nursing Science from the Bern University of Applied Sciences (Switzerland), Maastricht University (the Netherlands) and the Medical University of Graz (Austria). The conference provides the opportunity for PhD students to:

- Present a research project as part of their thesis
- Learn what is currently happening in nursing science around the world
- Share experiences and information in the area of nursing research
- Network with colleagues all over the world
- Meet the Professors

All PhD students in nursing or health science, professors and healthcare professionals are very welcome to join the conference. Further information is available on the conference website. PhD students in health or nursing science are invited to submit an abstract for an oral or a poster presentation.

We would be very grateful if you would circulate this call for abstracts in your network.
Yours sincerely,

The Organizational Committee
