The University Board of Bern University of Applied Sciences

pursuant to Article 33 paragraph 1 letter n of the Act of 19 June 2003 concerning Bern University of Applied Sciences (FaG)², Article 62 of the Ordinance of 5 May 2004 concerning Bern University of Applied Sciences (FaV)³ and Art. 1, Subsection 2 of the Framework Study Regulations (FSR) of Bern University of Applied Sciences dated 5 May 2021 has resolved as follows:

1. Subject and scope

Art. 1 ¹ These regulations apply to the study of degree programs at BFH Business School that lead to the award of a Bachelor of Science degree.

² They set out provisions that augment those of the FSR.

2. Structure of degree programmes

Standard duration of study

Art. 2 ¹ The standard duration of study is six semesters in the case of full-time programmes and eight semesters in the case of part-time programmes.

² The standard duration of study at foundation level is two semesters in the case of full-time programmes and three semesters in the case of part-time programmes.

³ The maximum permitted duration of study for both for types of programme is 16 semesters.

⁴ Where important reasons apply, the duration may be extended in response to a suitable application.

⁵ Exceeding the maximum permitted duration of study without sufficient reason will lead to exclusion from the degree programme concerned.

Course curriculum

Art. 3 Specified in the course curricula for full-time and part-time programmes are:

- a The modules on offer and the ECTS credits awarded for them,
- b The classification of modules as compulsory modules, elective modules or optional modules and their allocation to foundation level or advanced level courses,
- c The areas of specialisation,
- d How many ECTS credits need to be acquired through elective modules.

² BSG 435.411.

³ BSG 436.811.

Acquirement of ECTS credits

Art. 4 Each semester, modules equivalent to at least 12 ECTS credits must be taken. The head of teaching will decide on exceptions to this rule.

3. Modules

Art. 5 ¹ Within the limits imposed by these study regulations and the relevant course curriculum, students may freely select which modules they wish to take to obtain the required number of ECTS credits.

² Students who do not complete all the foundation level modules specified by a curriculum within a period twice that of the standard period of study for these foundation level modules will not be permitted to register for advanced level modules until they have completed all the foundation level modules required.

4. Competency assessments

Registration for/withdrawal from final examinations

Art. 6 ¹ Students who enrol for a module are also automatically registered for all individual competency assessments during the module and, if relevant, for the first date when any final examination is to be held.

² Students may withdraw from the first date when a final examination is to be held. The registration deadline is to be specified by the head of degree programme.

³ It is possible for students to sit final exams on a second date, in which case they must themselves register to take the exam on this date.

Subsequent grade improvement

Art. 7 ¹ Grades for proofs of competence awarded a grade of 3.5 or “failed” are eligible for subsequent improved.

² If sufficient improvements are made, the provisional grade of 3.5 will be replaced by a grade of 4.0. If the opportunity to subsequently improve the grade is not made use of or if the result of doing so is unsatisfactory, the definitive final grade will be 3.5.

Repetition
1. Rules

Art. 8 ¹ With the exception of the compulsory Bachelor’s thesis module, modules and competency assessments that have not been passed can be repeated a maximum of two times, assuming that the modules in question continue to be offered. This requires that students themselves register for any modules that have been failed or re-register for any failed partial competency assessments.

² Students will receive credit for acquired and satisfactory partial proofs of competence if they register to retake a module the next time it is offered, provided the nature and content of the associated partial proofs of competence have not changed.

³ When a module is repeated, the original module grade is nullified and replaced in the transcript of records by the grade for the module repetition. This is the case even if the grade for the module repetition is worse than the original module grade.

⁴ After a competency assessment has been successfully completed or externally acquired ECTS credits have been recognized, no further ECTS credits will be awarded for retaking the same module or for taking a module similar in subject matter. Once a module has been successfully completed, students may not achieve a better grade by retaking the module, taking a module with a similar subject, or taking a competency assessment similar in subject matter.

2. Thesis

Art. 9 ¹ A thesis may be repeated once with new subject matter. More details can be found in the module description.

² Students who fail the presentation component of the thesis module may apply to repeat this once.

Disclosure of results

Art. 10 The head of degree programme is responsible for disclosing the results of competency assessments.

Postponing of competency assessments

Art. 11 The final decision on any request to postpone a full competency assessment or a partial competency assessment rests with the head of degree programme.
