Competencies upon Completion	After completing the module, students will be able to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • describe the relevance and purpose of sustainability reporting; • describe the different existing reporting standards; • select a reporting standard adapted to the purpose and requirements; • prepare a comprehensive sustainability report for an organization; • critically evaluate the quality, reliability, and credibility of a sustainability report.
Content	More than 80 percent of companies worldwide are publishing sustainability reports to give stakeholders a clear picture of the company's efforts to become more sustainable. Today, companies of almost every size and industry are expected to produce a report. This module will demonstrate why companies should embrace this trend and the benefits of the sometimes arduous and complex task of sustainability reporting. Using specific practical examples, students will practice preparing such reports.
